Ryan Ferguson becomes CEO

The Lifesaving Society New Brunswick Board of Directors is pleased to announce the appointment of Ryan Ferguson as CEO effective January 1, 2020. Ryan has participated in the Society's affairs provincially and nationally as volunteer and staff member. He processed his first test sheets in 2005 as a summer student and joined the Society's professional staff in 2014. He served as Lifesaving Society NB Member Services from 2015 to 2017 when he became Communications Manager.

Ryan's volunteer service with the Society includes a strong background in sport and training programs. He holds Lifesaving Society certifications across multiple program streams and has an intimate knowledge of the Society's training, leadership and lifesaving sport programs – as a Trainer, Coach and staff member. A former member of Canada's National Lifesaving Team, Ryan chaired the Society's Canadian Athletes Council for six years and helped develop the Lifesaving Sport Fundamentals program.

Ryan studied Politics and History at the University of Toronto. He lives in Fredericton with his wife, Beth and children, Millicent and Wesley. Ryan succeeds Doug Ferguson who is stepping down after almost eight years as New Brunswick's CEO.

Office Holiday Hours

Happy Holidays! The office will close December 23, 2019 thru January 1, 2020. We will check voicemail and email periodically. Please leave a message or email info@lifesavingnb.ca. We reopen January 2.

Swim to Survive and Swim to Survive Plus – now in a single award guide

Our new Swim to Survive and Swim to Survive+ Award Guide helps instructors plan, teach and evaluate both programs:

The Lifesaving Society's Swim to Survive program teaches the essential skills needed to survive an unexpected fall into deep water: Roll into deep water – Tread for 1 minute – Swim 50 metres to safety. Swim to Survive+ (Plus) participants perform these survival skills while wearing clothing. They learn how to safely help a friend in trouble using talking, reaching and throwing assists, and they perform a clothed fitness swim.
