Age of Certification

The Lifesaving Society Canada is adopting 15 years as the minimum age prerequisite for certification as a Swim Instructor, Lifesaving Instructor, or National Lifeguard. Candidates must be at least 15 years of age as of the final day of the course. Award prerequisites for these certifications remain unchanged.

This is a national change in these national awards. In New Brunswick, the change to 15 years is effective July 1, 2020.

This change is the result of two years of thoughtful consultation with the Society's affiliate members, leadership personnel, aquatic industry leaders. We thank them for their hard work.

The time is right. In an era of chronic staff shortages in aquatics, this change means more candidates can participate in the certification training they need for employment earlier than ever. And it means employers can tap into a larger talent pool too and begin staff recruitment efforts earlier.

In the discussions about age as a determinate of success, it was recognized that age is only one factor among many including physical, cognitive and emotional maturity that determine successful outcomes. There was consensus that the Society's competency-based evaluation system (e.g., the Must Sees) is, in the end, a more useful and objective measure of success.

The Society's minimum age for certification has no impact on the minimum age for employment for instructors and lifeguards (16 years) established by the New Brunswick Public Pool Safety Standards.

Policy change reminders

The Society has implemented several policy changes since March. Stay up to date by checking in with the Society's website regularly in case you missed them:

Blended learning: The Lifesaving Society has prepared a guide to support its affiliate members and leadership personnel who plan to augment traditional in-person training with online or blended learning delivery of the Society's courses. Open the guide here.

First aid valid for 3 years: In the interests of reducing confusion among employers and harmonizing the Lifesaving Society currency period with New Brunswick government regulations, CSA recommendations and the general practice among other workplace first aid providers, the Lifesaving Society New Brunswick has adopted a 3-year period for the validity of its Emergency First Aid and Workplace Standard First Aid certifications. Read the announcement here.

Vocational award currency extension: To support aquatic staff and the reopening of aquatic facilities, the Lifesaving Society is extending the validity of awards required for employment that have expired since March 1, 2020. Specifically, the Society will extend the currency of these awards for a period of 90 days from the day pools were permitted to reopen (June 5, 2020). Read full details here.

Bronze instructors – get ready

If you teach or examine the Bronze awards, you need the new Bronze Medals Award Guide to get ready for when your employer implements the revised program. It includes:

- The test items, performance requirements (Must Sees) and notes for the new Bronze Star, Bronze Medallion and Bronze Cross awards.
- A technical supplement related to new items in Bronze Medallion and Bronze Cross and advice on setting up lifesaving and Bronze Cross assistant lifeguarding situations.

Order your copy today. $19.60 plus tax. Second edition (April 2020), 84 pages, saddle-stitched and three-hole punched for compatibility with the Society's Leadership binder.

Watch for more information for affiliates, instructors and recertifying Bronze Cross candidates.

Guide for Reopening New Brunswick Pools and Waterfronts

The Lifesaving Society has published the July 2020 edition of New Brunswick's Guide for Reopening Pools and Waterfronts. The guide is designed to help owners and operators of public pools and waterfronts adapt their operations to minimize the risk of COVID-19 transmission.

The guide is available for free for all Society members. Download your copy from our website.

NEW – Lifesaving Society Instructor Manual

Out with the old, in with the new! The new Instructor Manual provides instructors with the essentials needed to successfully teach, coach and evaluate Lifesaving Society programs. Used with award guides, the Instructor Manual (which replaces Instructor Notes) is the required text on all instructor courses. Care has been taken to emphasize the practical application of teaching and learning principles. Use it to deliver and evaluate any award with confidence.

Note to Instructor Trainers

As of July 1, 2020, candidates will receive the new Instructor Manual in Swim Instructor Packs and Lifesaving Instructor Packs. You need to buy a copy, read it and reference it while teaching.

The new Instructor Manual is 108 pages, coil-bound and in full-colour. Price: $20.00. Pre-order your copy today by emailing orders@lifesavingnb.ca.

First Aid Prereq change after July 1

Workplace Standard First Aid (SFA) is a prerequisite certification to National Lifeguard and can be used as a prerequisite for several other Lifesaving Society courses including Bronze Cross. To date only SFA awards issued by the national agencies (Lifesaving Society, St. John Ambulance, Canadian Red Cross or Canadian Ski Patrol) were eligible as prerequisites.

This changes for exams held after July 1, 2020.

In light of the significant growth in the number of first aid providers and recent changes in government regulations, the Lifesaving Society is broadening access to its lifesaving and lifeguard courses by accepting, for prerequisite purposes, SFA certifications provided by training agencies approved by the Government of New Brunswick.

The Society will post on its website the list of approved agency SFA certifications that may be used as prerequisites to the Society's awards. The Society will update its list periodically to align with changes approved by the Government of New Brunswick.

We hope that this change means easier access to Lifesaving Society certification courses for more candidates, and that this change makes things a little easier for the Society's affiliates.
