U de M hosts National Lifeguard Update Clinic

35 National Lifeguard instructors from across New Brunswick attended the Society's National Lifeguard Update Clinic held November 5, 2022 at the Université de Moncton. The group consisted of the Society's most experienced instructors, combining for a total of over 900 National Lifeguard courses and exams between them.

The full day clinic oriented instructors to the updated National Lifeguard program and provided plenty of time for the seasoned group to engage in debate and share ideas. Thank you to all who participated.

Special thanks to New Brunswick's National Lifeguard Chair, Alex Mullin along with National Trainers Angela Johnson, Adam Munn and Joey Doucet whose leadership and contributions made the event a success.

National Lifeguard update

As previously advised in the September issue of Splash, the Society has updated the National Lifeguard program to ensure its curriculum and performance standards remain current, relevant and grounded in the competencies required by lifeguards.

As soon as their instructors are updated, Affiliates may implement the updated National Lifeguard program at their convenience (but no later than December 31, 2023).

Implementation details are featured in the National Lifeguard Update and in the Lifeguarding section of our website.
